

"CLOTHES MAKES THE MAN!"

If there is a doubt that "Clothes Make the Man"—there is no doubt about them helping the man "make good."

In business and social life you owe it to yourself to wear clothes that speak "personality and progress."

It takes fit, style and all round good workmanship in a garment to give the wearer his full measure of justice.

This store has added to its reputation for satisfactorily outfitting men and boys with each succeeding anniversary. Young fellows who wore our clothes in their --teens continue to wear them in their --ties.

Whether you are sixteen or sixty--more or less--we've a suitable suit for you. We keep abreast of the times in every department of men's and boys wearing apparel.

IT'S UP TO US.

A paragraph is flitting around in the press to the effect that "the future may be bright for some, but the road will always be dark for others."

Of course some pessimist wrote it, for pessimists always mill around in the shadows.

As a matter of hard fact, this world is always just about what we choose to make it.

If we pull a long face and go out hunting for troubles, we will find them—in bunches.

If we saddle ourselves with a case of blues in the morning, and hang onto it with a death grip all day, and take it to bed with us at night, we will probably find life's pathway shrouded in gloom. But it will be gloom of our own making, and we will be getting only that which we sought. But how different is the other side?

God inflicts us all with certain troubles, but He also gives us brains, and determination, and a will power with which to rise above the petty perplexities and tribulations of life.

The bright side of existence is all around us—in front of us everywhere we turn, constantly knocking for admission. It is ours for the taking.

The man or woman who can not feel thankful for the pure air, and the bright sunshine, and three meals a day, is something less than a normal human being. There is a screw loose somewhere.

Even the animals of the earth and the birds of the air are not so degenerate in their class, for they seek always for the brightness of life.

And is our intelligence and our will power inferior to theirs, that we should live with an ache and die with a grunt?

Every trouble inflicted upon us is for our own ultimate good, and they are infinitesimal when compared with the joys of a bright mind, a clear conscience and a determination to reap to the fullest of life's blessings.

If the road is dark to some, it is because they do not use the brains which God gave them in overcoming the obstacles which He in His wisdom has placed in their pathway. Our future is up to us, to make or to mar, as we choose.

THE STATE FAIR.

Columbia, October 11.—What promises to be a record breaking attendance upon the State fair is indicated each day by the unusual activity in purchasing concessions of space for exhibits and the general report from all sections of the State of plans to come and bring trains. From Darlington county alone, President J. N. Kirven predicts an attendance of as many as four thousand persons. The schools of that county are to be closed and an estimate has been made that more than two thousand of the four thousand school children in the county will come to Columbia for one day. Similar interest is being manifested in other sections.

Charleston too is to bring its "special," promoted by the Charleston Ad Club, Charleston's commercial organization. The City by the Sea is to get a rapturous boost from the effort that will be made that day.

D. F. Ford, secretary of the fair, says there has never been such a rush for exhibit room and such a general application for information.

ABOND OF SYMPATHY.

An unusually attractive and comprehensive feature introduced this year is the Harvest Jubilee celebration. This novel plan is statewide in scope, and establishes a bond of intimate relationship with each of the 44 counties in the State, which have been asked to nominate a young lady in the queen selection contest. Practically all the counties are participating, and the coronation ceremonies on the statehouse steps will be one of the big features of fair week. The 12 young ladies receiving the highest number of votes next to the queen are to act as maids of honor.

NATURAL RESOURCE PARADE.

Another feature, which approaches State fair interest from the local angle, will be the natural resource parade Wednesday afternoon. Already 17 counties have indicated their desire to enter "floats" in addition to seven or eight of the larger cities. A distinct effort will be made to have the "floats" represent accurately the industrial and natural resources behind the State's wealth producing capacity, and some unusually spectacular entries are being built.

"South Carolina Day" which will be observed Thursday, will be the "big" occasion, and will be characterized by the most gigantic of all "caravans" that will file in slow procession through Main street. The Trades Display will be a distinct feature, when many of the different business enterprises of Columbia will enter "floats," varying in phases of beauty and attractiveness. The contingent of the South Carolina federation of labor will greatly swell the body of the procession. Another increasing bulk will be provided by the 16 companies of the national guard and coast artillery, which will be one of the brilliant spectacles of the week. Military day will be observed Tuesday, when the militiamen will spend the day in competitive athletic events, prize drilling and other singular contests. Many prizes have been offered for these exercises.

PUNTING THE PIGSKIN.

The week's bill for gridiron contests is unusually full. In addition to the supreme contest of Thursday between the rival contenders, Clemson and Carolina, two other games and possibly a third will be played on the fair grounds athletic field, while two other contests will be fought out on the university athletic park.

Porter Military academy and Baylor preparatory school of Knoxville, Tenn., play the initial game Tuesday noon. Wednesday the Presbyterian College of South Carolina and the Citadel fight for supremacy with Clemson and Carolina bringing the series to a conclusion Thursday noon. Carolina meets Davidson in Columbia that week also and under classmen from Clemson and Carolina also contest for honors. This is the heaviest football schedule that has ever characterized a State fair week in Columbia.

CONVENTIONS TO SWELL FAIR WEEK CROWD.

A heavy programme of conventions have been scheduled for fair week. These more than ever before will swell to excessive proportions the attendance this fall.

The South Carolina press association will hold an informal meeting then. Headquarters for these will be provided at the chamber of commerce rooms. Also a booth will be equipped for their use in the South Carolina building. Col. E. J. Watson, for many years an experienced newspaper man, and by virtue of his state wide interests in agriculture, commerce and in industries personally acquainted with them all, will assist in making their stay in Columbia a pleasant occasion. Plans will be considered by the newspaper men for the next summer's meeting, when a joint session will be probably held with the North Carolina association.

CORN CLUB BOYS COMING.

The corn club boys are to have an important place in the fair week festivities this year. Recently entry fees were cancelled and additional prize money of $15. A second and third prize of $10 and $5 respectively are also offered. For the ten ear exhibits alone, $23 in prizes will be given, these being $10, $8 and $5, respectively.

For the single ear exhibits, $15 worth of prizes are offered. The first, second and third premiums are placed at $7, $5 and $3 respectively. L. L. Baker, State supervisor of the corn clubs, believes that he can easily produce 100 exhibitors. The boys are to be a prominent entry in the parade. Each will wear overalls, a broad-brimmed palmetto hat, thus emphasizing the harvest season idea. A huge stalk of corn will also be carried by the boys.

Supplemental to this will be the canning club girls work of the state. Clemson college will have three different "floats" indicating the varied activities of the institution.

THE KING'S SPORT.

Horse racing this year will again be one of the large drawing cards of the fair attendance. In addition to the usual scale of premiums, approximating $1600 the State fair officials recently designated two additional prizes. One of these was $50 for the best saddle stallion, mare or gelding, any age. A model class premium of $40 was also appropriated for the best stallion mare or gelding, any age.
